TCL form is mandatory for all clients for any gemmological testing in all our laboratories.

DISCLAIMER: Client acknowledges that, the testing techniques and the technology used by Bellerophon gemlab for testing items for synthetics, treatments, processing, and the like are subject to change. These are evolving and include certain subjective elements therefore the ways in which item(s) might be treated or processed are changing and dynamic, becoming more sophisticated. As a result, it might not be possible in all cases to determine whether item(s) have been processed or treated using Bellerophon's then-current techniques and technology therefore Bellerophon makes no representations or warranties to client in this regard. Wherein if Bellerophon failure to detect whether an item has been processed or treated, or an inaccurate determination is made that an item was in fact found treated, natural, undetermined or processed Bellerophon knowledge of/or ability to detect any treatments shall not have any liability to client or any third party.

Bellerophon shall not have any liability to client or any third party for Bellerophon failure to detect whether an item has been processed or treated, for Bellerophon wherein if inaccurate determination was made that an item was in contrary treated, natural, undetermined or processed or for Laboratory Analysis Bellerophon knowledge of or ability to detect any treatments.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION AND LIMITATION ABOUT THE USE BELLEROPHON GEMMOLOGICAL REPORT:

All Bellerophon gemstone report(s) will be printed on original paper and will bear an official signature. No corrections or alterations of any form shall be accepted on the gemstone report. All gemstone reports are resin coated and contain visible and hidden security features for authentication. The gemstone report trademark such as logo, names, signature or service marks of Bellerophon may not be reproduced in whole or in part without the prior written authorization of Bellerophon. Bellerophon report contains the identification of gemstones by photographic images, diagrams, microphotographic images, descriptions of object, dimensions, cut, shape, clarity, color, and/or weight. It states an opinion on their authenticity, treatment, and country of origin if determinable. This Bellerophon Report does not constitute a guarantee for an appraisal of the object or gemstone described therein. The physical appearance of an object or gemstone may differ from its photographic image on the gemstone report. Determination of the authenticity and country of origin of a gemstone is based on analysis of its chemical and physical properties, its internal and or external characteristics such as presence and or absence of inclusions and growth features using standard gemological instruments and modern analytical instruments including spectrometers and lasers. The conclusion on the country of origin, authenticity and any kind of enhancement of a gemstone is an opinion of Bellerophon based on correlation analysis with those obtained from the past and present analysis of reference materials, as well as those in historic published gemmological literature. Bellerophon continuously updates this knowledge to a reasonable extent. Any conclusion on gemstone reports represent an opinion based on the theoretical and practical experience of the Laboratory. Laboratory Analysis Bellerophon may refuse the issuance of a gemstone report at any time.

Unless expressly agreed upon or otherwise, the client agrees to not hold Bellerophon liable for the loss or damage of gemstone(s) resulting from risks that may occur during the transportation and delivery processes, including robbery and theft, during the examination process, including color and clarity alteration or other alterations of the object or gemstone material including removal or fissure fillings on or within the object; and within the timeframe and thereafter the gemstone is in possession of Bellerophon, including theft negligence and natural acts of God.

Unless expressly agreed or otherwise, Laboratory Analysis Bellerophon shall not be held responsible for any consequences resulting from incomplete or erroneous data on the report such as errors in dimensions, weight, and measurements, typing errors and errors in the determination of the authenticity, country of origin and errors in the declaration of treatments. Furthermore, the client and all other persons to whom the client may distribute, show, or transfer gemstone reports for any use and for any purpose cannot hold Bellerophon liable. Any abusive use of Bellerophon gemstone report is not permitted. The conclusions on report reflects our findings at the time it was issued, respectively at the time when the referred object was analyzed. A gemstone can be modified and or enhanced at any time after the report is made. These conditions form an integral part of the contract insofar that the parties to the contract do not expressly agree otherwise.
